It was produced by Subhash Kapoor under Subhash Films and Karan Johar under Yash Raj Films. Dilwale Dulhania Le Jayenge was released in the year 1995. It received critical acclaim and was commercially successful becoming one of the highest grossing films of the year 1995. It has since developed a cult following. The film starred Shah Rukh Khan, Preity Zinta, Raveena Tandon, Juhi Chawla, Madhuri Dixit, Ranjeet and Amrish Puri in lead roles. The film marks the acting debut of Khan, who plays a character named Shah Rukh Khan, a bumbling farmhand in a small village. His character's mother has a crush on the film's protagonist, played by Zinta, who returns to the village after 5 years. The film co-stars Kajol and Juhi Chawla, who play Khan's school friends. It features the musical debut of Kumar Sanu and Udit Narayan. The film's music, background score, and songs were composed by Anu Malik, who also wrote the lyrics for some songs. The film is notable for its plot and soundtrack. The film is considered to be one of the "most romantically melancholic" Indian films. The trailer of the film is one of the highest-viewed trailers in history. It holds the record for highest-grossing film trailer, with close to 10 million views in three days. As of 2016, the trailer was shown more than 10 times in a day in India. The film was also one of the first Hindi films to be released in the DVD format. It is still considered to be a landmark release. The film was also the first to use subtitles to help distinguish the Hindi version from the dubbing version released in other countries. It was the first movie to be dubbed in Tamil, Telugu, and Malayalam, as the first two Hindi dubbed versions were released only in 1996. The first dubbed versions of Dilwale Dulhania Le Jayenge and its soundtrack were released in 1996. The film was remade in Tamil as Deva (1996) and in Kannada as Bhale Jodi (1997), both of which were commercially successful. The film's songs were remixed and remastered in the HD format. The movie was also remade in Hindi as Dulhan-E-Ishq in 2004, and in Kannada as Dil Wande J 82157476af
